Local Happenings of City and Territory Briefly Told.

Several Ripley horses have been entered in the Guthrie race meet.

Chas. S. McNichols, United States Indian inspector, who has been at Pawnee the past three weeks, investigating charges preferred against Superintendent Harvey of the Pawnee agency, has completed his labors and has left for his home in Illinois. Mr. McNichols' report has been mailed to the Washington officials.

The September term of court at Pawhuska has been adjourned.

Ponca City's commercial club is trying to secure a creamery for that town.

A broom factory has located at Perkins.

The Perkins Journal declares that Governor Ferguson has the gang on the run.

Stillwater is to have a carnival and street fair on Sept. 28, 29, 30, Oct. 1, 2, and 3.

A good rain fell at Alva last Monday, and every drop soaked into the ground.

Judge Frank Gillette and his grand jury seem to be tearing off the shingles in their fight on the local lumber trust at Hobart.

An End hotel keeper was robbed of $100 during the carnival last week. George Orner points to this as an evidence that it is a long lane that has no turn.

The Indian territory court of appeals will not render a decision in the tribal tax case till next spring. Many things may happen to "gentle Annie" before that time.

The federal government has agreed to admit all Mississippi Choctaw Indian children, whether or mixed or full blood, to its Indian industrial schools, of which there are about twenty. The government pays all expenses of transportation, tuition, board, etc. About fifty children will go next Sunday. They were refused admission to the Chickasaw tribal schools.

Late planted corn runs a risk of being caught by the frost.

Prairie fires have appeared in a few places along the line between Beaver county and New Mexico. People there are taking the usual precautions by putting out fire guards.

Oklahoma cotton planters are being advised to select at once their seed cotton for next year at once. It is claimed by producers of that crop that the seed maturing first is purer and more vigorous.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of W. H. Taylor, who shot and killed Dick Schiller at Lone Wolf three weeks ago, attended the trial of her son at Hobart last week, in spite of the fact that she was 87 years old.

Dr. Wheat, of Morrison, while at a Ponca City religious service the other day, met W. T. Oates, a grain buyer of the latter place. The two men with names so suggestive exchanged courtesies heartily.

Beaver county has its first M. E. church, having been dedicated at Kenton a few days ago. The Methodists of that part of the country are building up rapidly, several churches being organized in various communities.

Day county seems to be gaining much from the flood of migration from the east. Many people from the older sections of the Union have visited there lately and are considering plans for taking up their abodes in that county.

At Tekmo one of those numerous and fatal gun accidents is reported to have happened. A young man recently went to take a loaded pistol out of his pocket, and in doing so it was discharged, the ball entering a vital spot and killing him in a few hours.

Perry people are to get a move on themselves this week and put numbers on the houses. It is a rule of the post-office department that in towns where free delivery is served, the houses shall be numbered. A postoffice inspector is going to Perry in a few days, and that is the reason for the general move to comply with the regulation, in that respect.

Kansas people are interested in the project of starting a creamery at Ponca City. There are a number of good territory towns that could well afford exactly this kind of an institution, and the day will come when they will feel glad to have embraced the opportunity of having a better making plant. Oklahoma promises to become one of the great butter producing commonwealths of the Union.

It's folly to suffer from that horrible plague of the night, itching piles. Doan's Ointment cures, quickly and permanently. At any drug store, 50 cents.
